BY MICHAEL FAUST PDF

"Be what you know you are." - Pindar Is it possible to become God? Is the unconscious mind nothing other than the God portal, the Heaven gate? This is the extraordinary account by the ancient and controversial secret society known as the Pythagorean Illuminati of how it is possible for every human being to attain divinity. There are two vast obstacles to overcome, one relating to a lack of consciousness, and the other to an over-identification with consciousness. The followers of the Abrahamic religions are "bicameral", meaning that they are highly submissive, have little grasp of rationality, and obey "voices" emanating from their unconscious. Atheistic scientific materialists, on the other hand, are overly sensory and deny the existence of anything other than their mortal ego-consciousness, and doubt even that. They have cut themselves off from the most mysterious domain in existence: that of the two numbers zero and infinity (the singularity numbers) which define all of the mysteries of life. The God Program deconstructs all of the claims of scientific materialism and shows why they are false in relation to all of the most important issues of existence: life, mind, consciousness, God, the soul and the afterlife. Equally, the "revealed" religions of Abrahamism are shown to be rooted in the pre-conscious mind of the human race and to constitute a kind of mental illness and hatred of rationality. If anything, they are a manifestation of Devil worship. Have you ever asked where the laws of the Big Bang were stored prior to the Big Bang in order to be able to shape and direct that cosmic event? The God Program takes you on an astonishing journey back to the era before the Big Bang. It reveals how and why the material cosmos came into existence, and what the precise answer is to the ultimate question of "life, the universe and everything". It demonstrates how Jung's theory of the psyche can be traced back to the ideas of the Neoplatonist Plotinus, and illustrates why Jung's concept of the collective unconscious is the key to human apotheosis. The God Program also reveals the true nature of the world's most sacred object: the holy grail. This may be the most revolutionary book in history, presenting a unique and breathtaking view of reality. If you cannot find the answers to your profoundest questions in the God Program, you will find them nowhere.

Would you like some fries with that attitude?

By Kelly Hanson

At first I was very excited about finding this book, hoping to advance my own understanding and knowledge. And it was interesting. However, there are issues:

1) I'm irritated by the constant judgmental attitude of the author(s) - (So, tell me how you really feel) calling people who don't agree with them morons, retards, and other insulting names, shouting (all caps) and using multiple exclamation points throughout the book. Though I agree that 'Abrahamists' are arrested in the mythical stage of development, there is no need for adding hostility to an already volatile mix. It's hard to get over the feeling that I'm being schooled by someone who is not yet a grown-up. Get off the pulpit and give me straight information minus your issues with duality. Spare us the manifesto. Be cleaner.

2) I couldn't make some of the leaps of logic to their conclusions. One example is the stance that heterosexuality is the way things **should** be, if something doesn't 'go wrong'. Also, there's no sense of understanding adaptive evolution. There are several stances taken that are sketchy if not downright ignorant. The conclusion is really disappointing.

3) These 'Illuminati' lack compassion and humility. Arrogance is problematic, but the lack of compassion is a huge issue.

4) I haven't seen any reference to Ken Wilbur's work, Integral Psychology and Integral Spirituality, with states and stages of development, and the multiple lines of intelligences. This synthesis of all world religions and psychology is information that is needed to round out the understandings presented in this book. The authors need this integral map for perspective - to see where they are at on the ladder of human development. They talk of integration but they don't seem to know that there is a well-known methodology already. They seem to me, in spite of their cognitive intelligence, to be ethically challenged, denigrating morals to the domain of submission and inferiority. In truth, when a person develops compassion, ethics come with it.

5) Nowhere have I seen any understanding of the Law of Interdependence or Interconnectedness, which would temper some of the thinking here. In fact, this text seems particularly Western and not integrated with Eastern realization; there are references and quotes touching Buddhism, Vedanta and Zen, but no **evidence** of realization in the narration. Mind, or Psyche is not just cognitive intelligence. Far from it.

6) The entire concept of certain life forms being superior to other life forms based on attributes of little mind (waking up, taking on templates, etc.) gives me pause. Who defines what has merit in a meritocracy? Although I'd like to believe that I have more value than a worm, an idiot or a brainwashed follower of a sadistic religion, because I am more conscious, complex, wise and compassionate, WHO is conscious? Isn't it the same consciousness that flows in a blade of grass? Isn't it the Ego, after all, that creates valuation? That finds itself **differentiated**? So I take issue with the authors' arrogance, talking about ego from the ego. It's like Freud talking about the Jews. Unconscious. In fact, I see the authors' shadow.

7) The authors continuously mention 'sweeping away' or 'ignoring' vast parts of humanity that are not sufficiently conscious in order to win a war against materialistic extraverts who currently rule the world. I challenge these people to look in the mirror and see how this very book creates a collective shadow by wishing to cast off part of the unity that comprises it. The only way to **win** is, in Ken Wilbur's words, to Transcend and Include. Hate never yet dispelled hate. Only love dispels hate. This is the truth, ancient and inexhaustible, said the Buddha.

I do feel like I learned or connected a few things in new ways, so I'm not going to give this 1 star. There's a lot of light missing here. The book doesn't deliver its title - ultimately, it tells us mysteriously to 'Run the God Program'. You'll probably learn a lot more about becoming God from 'How To Know God - The Yoga Aphorisms of Pantanjali', translated by Isherwood & Prabhavananda. Also, there's this amazing TED talk (free) from Bob Thurman called 'We Can Be Buddhas'- you'll need to google that.

Good info yet misguided in certain areas

By Amazon Customer

While the message of destroying the old paradigm is correct the author makes a critical mistake in assuming that Islamists were responsible for 9/11 and does not understand the true significance of the illuminati or the Freemasons. The books of these sort always seem to be at the same 85% correct level. My guess is there is law of confusion going on here as this number has been consistent across multiple subjects regarding these topics.

How not to be fooled

By Myles Marriott

All books from the IO assist your reasoning, understanding. This book is a synthesis, a launching pad delving into psychology, persona, The Holy Grail. I recommend this reading and then onto "God Genesis". Not the other way round. If you read all the books then you will end up level 6-7. Be the lighthouse keeper, climb the stairs, confront the shadows and walk into the light with your prize.
