You had better be sitting down!

By Mark Schuler

I used this book in a home bible study a few years back. The authors interpretation and consistant use of scripture keeps you grounded in God's word and not in man's opinion. What a blessing givin the number of "this is what I think" books on the shelves these days. No country goes into battle without first studying the tactics and history of their opponent. To not prepare with this information would be utter foolishness. "Seeing The Unseen" helps you to understand and prepare for the battle which every christian will engage in from the point of salvation untill God calls them home. This study can open up the eyes of the un-believer as well to the spiritual realm which envelopes us all. God is supernatural, as is His entire realm. We are sheltered here on earth in a natural state, blocked from the perception and understanding of the supernatural that scripture talks about. I encourage every christian to pick this one up. Learn what God, Jesus and the writers of the bible have told us about the lies and connivings of Satan and how he desires to make us "useless soldiers" in God's kingdom. Grab your bible, sit down and get comfortable, and read. You won't want to get up untill your done!

Spiritual Warfare Boot Camp

By Dan Cole

I read this book for a class at our congregation and I was not able to put it down. This book helped me to see what are some of the forces behind the scenes. It is the book that started my boot camp training for the spiritual warfare that I am helping my congregation to get in on. I would recommend this book to anyone that wants or needs to know the "why" behind some of the things that happen in our lives. I also know that this is a great book to start off with for a spiritual warfare class, prayer class, etc. This book will help to build spiritual warriors in any congregation.
